

2. WE'RE ALIVE!

By John Jacobson and John Higgins

We're alive! We're alive! We're alive and we're free.
We can sing, we can dance 'round the evergreen tree.
It's Christmas Eve at twelve-o'-five,
When all of Santa's toys can come alive!

Ho, Ho, Ho! Hee, Hee, Hee!
Silliest sight that we ever did see!
We're hoppin' and boppin' and playin' away
On the night before our favorite holiday!

(Spoken Solo 1) Attention, everyone! Here come the Toy Soldiers!

SOLDIERS: (spoken) Left! Left! Left! Right! Left!
(sing) Marching! Why do we march all day?
Maybe it's just the thing, the thing we do!
Marching! Gotta keep marching on.
Where are we marching to?
It looks like none of us, none of us, none of us has a clue!

(Spoken Solo 2) Oh, look! The Princess Dolls are here!

Arrogant Prince Doll: Never fear! I'LL protect them!

PRINCESS DOLLS:
We are Princess Dolls, and we try not to make a fuss.
When we rescue the handsome Prince,
We'll make him think he rescued us! (spoken) Shhh!

(Spoken Solo 3) Hey! Did somebody let those puppets off their strings?

PUPPETS:
We're off our strings, so let's dance and sing!
Now we might try almost anything!
We may not always think like we should.
Well, that's 'cause our heads are made of wood!

(Spoken Solo 4) Oh no! Who let those monkeys out?

(Spoken Solo 5) I don't know, but they found the cymbals and NOW look what's happened!

ALL:
We're alive! We're alive! We're alive and we're free.
We can sing, we can dance 'round the evergreen tree.
It's Christmas Eve at twelve-o'-five,
When all of Santa's toys can come alive!

Ho, Ho, Ho! Hee, Hee, Hee!
Silliest sight that we ever did see!
We're hoppin' and boppin' and playin' away
On the night before our favorite holiday! (spoken) Hoo-ray!
