Time to show our school spirit, just in time for Halloweek! Leadership is encouraging you to participate in the spirit days next week by dressing up and joining in the fun! The themes are:

Thursday: Throwback Thursday

Friday: Halloween Costumes

Photo highlights of your costumes can be sent to @thssleadership on Instagram to be featured in our story throughout the week! There will also be a costume contest on Friday through Instagram! Send us a picture of your costume & our teacher panel of judges will select winners (and there will be prizes!).

Writing Contest: The First Page student writing challenge asks students in Grades 7 to 12 from across Canada to write the first page of a speculative novel set 150 years in the future. The challenge tasks young writers with imagining how current world issues and trends will evolve in the next century. The contest will be open for submissions from Nov. 4 to Nov. 26, 2020. Writer David A. Robertson will be choosing the winner. If you're interested in reading his work, visit thsslibrary.com to place a hold on one of his amazing books!
