Earth Day 2021: The theme is “Restore Our Earth”. This year marks the 50th anniversary for Earth Day. It is important to keep in mind some small things we can be doing every day to help our planet. Here are some things you can do:

- Walk or ride your bike to school
- Bring a water bottle from home
- Go paperless where you can (use electronic devices to access information)
- Plant flower seeds for bees and pollinators (Try: Buckwheat, Cornflowers, Chives, Cucumber, Echinacea, marigolds, sunflowers)
- Shop locally (and organic)
- Bring re-usable bags
- Donate unused items & check secondhand stores for needed items
- Try eating meat free once a week (Check out some Vegan food blogs like Love and Lemons or Oh She Glows for some recipe ideas)
- Plant a tree
- Inform yourself (read up, watch documentaries, have conversations with teachers)
- Have conversations with others (and share what you have learned)

Hey Art and Tech Students! THSS Eco-Action is hosting an Earth Day Art Contest! Submit a piece of original artwork of any medium, including digital art, and you could win some eco-friendly prizes! Artwork should preferably depict the environment in some form. The deadline is April 22nd, 2021. Submit artwork to thssecoaction@gmail.com or dm to thss\_ecoaction on Instagram.

Library news:

As Quarter 3 wraps up, please remember to return your books to the library! If you have overdue books from a previous quarter (or school year), please bring those back too. We will be sending out bills for missing books at the end of the year.

May 3: Grad Valedictorian Assembly via Zoom

The Fabulous Wellness Club will now be meeting outside on Wednesday afternoons at 1:30 pm by the fountain. We will be there for a chat or a check in, a possible walk and talk around the field, or just a chance to have some time in the sunshine. Everyone welcome

Dance: Another great option for getting your heart rate up and your daily fitness is to DANCE! The great thing about dancing is that you can do it anywhere and to any music you want. Put on your favourite playlist and move your body! Even if you are just jumping around to the music, your heart rate will rise, and you will get your daily physical activity in (and hopefully brighten your mood as well if you dance to music that makes you happy). If you prefer something a bit more structured, we have included 2 different dance fitness videos below for you to try.

An Interview with Myself: Self-reflection is a key part of self-awareness and understanding our capacities to grow. One way to do this is to interview yourself; here's how you can do it:

First, sit yourself down wherever you like to sit. Get coffee or your drink of choice. Turn off the distractions and take it seriously. (Wouldn't you take another interview seriously?)

Then you can open the conversation like this:

Dear self, you are x years old. As you look back on your life, what are you most proud of, what do you regret, and how do you feel about each of those things? Here are a few follow-ups:

- What's next, self?
- Why do you do the things you do every day?
- What do you really believe in? (What do you know to be true?)
- Where do you find your security?
- What bothers you, and what are you doing about it?
- What worries you?
- How will you spend the next year of your life?

Of course, when you interview yourself, you can customize the interview however you see fit. The point is self-reflection and to connect to yourself.
